Enormously Heavy Business

The past six weeks' sale record here has eclipsed all previous trading. In fact, the business was so much greater than we anticipated that we nearly depleted the magnificent stock we opened the season with. Our buyer went to New York two weeks ago to replenish the line, and these late purchases are just now beginning to arrive. The garments are, if anything, more fascinating than the early showing, as new features are embodied here and there that render them more attractive.

The following items out of this recent purchase will be especially exhibited tomorrow, and merit your investigation:

TAILORED SUITS

In Cheviots, Broadcloth and Mixtures, such pleasing shades as purple, mulberry, rose, green, red, brown, black, gray mixtures, etc., in extremely long coats, frocks and blouses, bought within the last two weeks and right up to the minute in style.

Prices $15.00 to $60.00.

NEW WAISTS

This department contains some of the choicest waists ever created. Handsome novelty garments in white, black and evening shades, made of chiffon, taffeta lace, crepe de chene and net.

A wonderful line of fine taffeta waists that won't split. Really worth $6.00. Black, white and all other shades.

Price $5.00.

CLOTH COATS

A new lot of handsome broadcloth, light weight jerseys and fancy mixture materials. In the very newest ideas. Also a big assortment of rain coats. Coat time is now here and the early comers will find a selection of unusual elegance. A wonderful line of children's coats.

Price $5.00 to $6.00.

Molasses Cane as a Feed.

Molasses cane is sweet, juicy and rich in nutriment. Cattle and horses are very fond of it and will eat the stalk as well as the blades. A friend of mine planted four acres in molasses cane two years ago, dropping it in hills like corn. After it had tasseled and the seeds were well formed, he cut it up in shocks twelve hills square. That winter he fed it to four horses and several cows. He declared to me that one shock of the cane would go as far as four shocks of common corn fodder. His stock looked well in the spring and he had fed them but little grain with the cane fodder. Another one of my friends thinks so much of molasses cane as a feed that he has been sowing broadcast several acres for a number of years. He cuts it with a binder when it is a little higher than ripened wheat. After it has been cured in small shocks he hauls it to his feed lot and stacks it like he would oats or wheat. He has fed it to his cattle, horses and sheep to a good advantage. Besides being good as a feed it is an inexpensive one. It may be a little harder on the land than other crops, but it pays in the long run. —W. D. Neale, in N. W. Agriculturist.

Tinsley's Appointment Certain.

The situation in the Eastern district of Kentucky with reference to appointment of a District Attorney was finally cleared up by President Roosevelt Thursday, Congressman J. B. Bennett, who has been championing W. G. Dearing for that position, called on the President, and learned that J. H. Tinsley positively will be appointed. The President left no doubt that the matter is finally disposed of. Dearing had the support of the State organization, Tinsley was backed by Congressman D. C. Edwards.

Occasionally the string on a man's finger only serves to remind him that he has forgotten to take it off.

Protecting the Quail.

Sportsmen in the country are trying to prevent the "pot hunters" from destroying the quail which already are few compared with numbers in former days—as may be judged from the fact that in 1810, according to the statement of the naturalist Audubon, they could be bought for 12 cents a dozen. In 1881 they were commonly purchased at 50 cents per dozen, being even then a delicacy obtainable by the poor; but the price today ranges from $3 to $5 a dozen.

The demand for quail exceeds the supply, and on this account the birds are sought persistently by market hunters everywhere. A single dealer not long ago sold 100,000 of them in one season. No wonder, then, that dear little "Bob White" is disappearing.

At a conservative estimate, from 300,000 to 400,000 sportsmen go out from our cities every autumn to hunt quail. Of course, they kill a great many of the birds, but they do not wipe them out wholesale, and, in compensation, they pay a great deal of money to farmers who own good shooting land. Besides, paradoxical as it may seem, they exert a powerful influence for the protection of the "Bobwhite." Many individuals and clubs own or lease large tracts where they maintain the birds and shoot only the surplus. These enthusiasts assist in the enforcement of game laws, restock depleted coverts, and provide for the quail in times of scarcity.

Some clubs are organized for the purpose of holding "field trials," the object of which is to test the ability of competing dogs to find and point quails. Retrieving being not being required, the birds are not shot. Such trials are held in a score of States, and in some of the contests more than a hundred dogs are enacted. A few owners of field-trial dogs have preserves of their own, stocked with quail, and live "Bobwhites" for purposes of the kind are in demand at high prices.

A number of clubs control, each of them, preserves of from 5000 to 20,000 acres, on which no shooting is allowed—or, if permitted, is carefully regulated—and suitable measures are taken for protecting the quail and facilitating their propagation. The birds breed rapidly, and under such conditions they multiply at a surprising rate. —Saturday Evening Post.

Regularity in Feeding and Milking.

The great importance of feeding and milking cows with the utmost regularity has not received that attention which their importance demand. When the time comes for feeding the cow it expects its feed, and if it does not get it there will be some loss of flesh or lack of progress; and the more regularly the cows have been fed in the past the greater will be the loss consequent upon irregular feeding.

But the loss from irregularity is nowhere more apparent than in milking. Some dairymen milk a little later on Sunday morning than through the week. The following test shows the folly of this practice: A prominent dairyman in Pennsylvania delayed milking his cows on Sunday morning for an hour and a half, and there was a large shrinkage in the milk yield that evening and for the day. On Monday morning and on Tuesday morning there was a difference. From fifty cows the shrinkage on Monday morning was about one hundred pounds, or an average of two pounds apiece. That dairyman will never let his cows go over the regular milking time on Sunday morning again.—Thomas W. Lloyd, in Tribune Farmer.

Science Pitted Against Disease.

Is a battle typified by that of Dr. Caldwell's (laxative) Syrup Pepsin against all disorders of the stomach and bowels. Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin contains all the best modern knowledge on the subject of these diseases and their cure scientifically combined by a master at the game of health, viz: Dr. W. B. Caldwell, after many years devoted to special investigation of this great subject. Its wonderful success in the quick and permanent cure of all these distressing diseases, has made its name, all over the country, synonymous with health. Try it. Sold by W. S. Lloyd, at 50c and $1.00. m

A special from Canton says:—Richard Watkins, of Breathitt county, who has been indicted in Wolfe county for some time on the charge of stealing cattle and bringing them to this place and selling them, was arrested at Beattyville, Lee county, by the Sheriff of Wolfe county, and lodged in jail.

What is human perfection? Wise men talk about it but never teach it themselves. Let them talk about it ten thousand years hence.

Asparagus Beds.

November is the time to attend to the asparagus beds. A well-kept bed requires very little work, but a neglected asparagus bed requires a great deal more work in the way of manuring, cutting weeds, asparagus, etc. The asparagus tops should be cut now before the seeds ripen well and drop to the ground. This prevents the growing of young asparagus plants broadcast over the beds. As soon as the asparagus tops are cut and removed, the beds should be well manured. This will give the beds a good winter protection and keep the ground well loosened during the winter.

The following spring the beds should be spaded up lightly in order to turn under the remaining manure. However, the beds should not be spaded too deep, for fear the spade may injure the roots or crowns. If the asparagus bed is getting too old or dying out, a young stock of plants is easily obtained as soon as the asparagus seed is ripe. The seed plants may be cut and hauled into the shed and the seed berries can then be beaten off with sticks. Then comes the tedious task of separating the seeds from the pulps and hulls.

This is accomplished by throwing the seed balls into a tub or barrel with water. A rammer made of wood should be used and the berries worked until the seeds are mashed, separated from the hull. The seed should then be taken and spread over floor not thicker than one-half inch, and frequently stirred with garden rake until dry.

Make Merry.

Eat and make merry, but beware of evil consequences if you have a weak stomach. Better prevent possible trouble by a dose of Dr. Caldwell's Pepsin Syrup after an extra heavy meal. It helps to digest your food and quickly carries away all waste matter. Sure cure for headache and constipation. Sold by W. S. Lloyd, at 50 cents and $1.00. Money back if it fails. 16-5

Secretary Taft is at present on the Isthmus of Panama, looking carefully into matters affecting the government's interests there. It is claimed that for the amount of money expended up to this time on the Panama canal work, $10,000,000, little results have been obtained, and that much of this amount has gone to pay salaries of more or less superfluous officials. Secretary Taft will personally investigate these matters and may be depended upon to institute various reforms whereby more results will be secured in construction work.

Energy all gone? Headache? Stomach out of order? Simply a case of torpid liver. Burdock Blood Bitters will make a new man or woman of you. m

It is estimated that the American apple crop is this year about 40,000,000 bushels short. The latest estimate places the total crop at 250,000,000 annual, against 289,000,000 last year. Wisconsin has suffered more than any state, but the shortages are also very marked in Michigan, Iowa and Minnesota. Further east the crop is more nearly a normal one, although some falling off in New York, Pennsylvania and Ohio. New England has secured a reasonably good crop, including Maine, where the quality is remarkably fine.

Fear and doubt are the parents of prayer; half the people only pray when brought face to face with death.

W. S. Lloyd Successful.

After a great deal of effort and correspondence, W. S. Lloyd, the popular druggist, has succeeded in getting the Dr. Howard Co. to make a special half-price introductory offer on the regular fifty cent size of their celebrated specific for the cure of constipation and dyspepsia.

This medicine is a recent discovery for the cure of all diseases of the stomach and bowels. It not only gives quick relief, but it makes permanent cures.

Dr. Howard's specific has been so remarkably successful in curing constipation, dyspepsia and all liver troubles, that W. S. Lloyd is willing to return the price paid in every case where it does not give relief.

The old-fashioned idea of dosing with mineral waters, cathartic pills or harsh purgatives will soon be a thing of the past. The best physicians are prescribing Dr. Howard's specific because it really gives the desired results and on account of the small and pleasant dose that is needed.

Headaches, coated tongue, dizziness, gas on the stomach, specks before the eyes, constipation, and all forms of liver and stomach trouble are soon cured by this scientific medicine.

So great is the demand for this specific, that W. S. Lloyd has been able to secure only a limited supply, and every one who is troubled with dyspepsia, constipation or liver trouble should call upon him at once, or send 25 cents, and get sixty doses of the best medicine ever made, on this special half-price offer, with his personal guarantee to refund the money if it does not cure. Nov 22-Dec-61.

The merchants and landlords of Danville are organizing a unique protective association. Each landlord supplies every member of the association with a list of people to whom has rented and who have been dilatory in paying rentals or from whom it has been impossible to collect. The members take upon themselves an obligation combined with a heavy forfeiture not to rent to such tenants until they have first satisfied the original landlord to whom they are indebted. The same policy will be pursued by the merchants in selling goods on credit.

All parties holding claims against the city of Mt. Sterling will please file them with the City Clerk or some member of the Council on or before Nov. 30. 18-St.

New York apple men will get $2 per barrel for their fruit on the trees this year. Last year they were glad to get 60 cents, and much fruit was not picked at all.

ANNOUNCEMENTS.

FOR CONGRESS.

We are authorized to announce Judge H. Clay McKee as a candidate for Congress in the Tenth District, subject to the action of the Republican party, in convention or otherwise.

AGAINST THE INEVITABLE

If the vote of Breathitt county as reported is correct, it is to be hoped the contests of Judge Hargis and others as reported in the daily papers will be abandoned. Contests are all right when there is evidence that frauds sufficient to change results have been practiced. For the growth of parties honesty must prevail.

The majorities of the fusion ticket in Breathitt are so large that public sentiment goes with them, and if there are any technical errors they will not be counted. It is the people of this county, regardless of party affiliations, that have brought out these majorities, and their sovereignty will prevail.

It is believed that these majorities are the initial steps toward the adjusting of conditions in Breathitt, and if the contestants would regard their own future interests, they would humbly bow to the voice of the people and be good.

A CANDIDATE.

In this day of vote buying it is expensive to become a candidate and the majority of men postpone a formal announcement to the very last moment; one fellow will want the candidate on his note, another will want to borrow a hundred dollars and others smaller amounts all the way down the scale to the cost of a drink. This may be the reason it has been so hard to find out whether or not Hon. Frank Hopkins will stand as a candidate for Congress to succeed himself. We have finally pulled the eye-tooth however, and can of a truth say Hon. Frank Hopkins is a candidate, ready to give an account of his stewardship and also a reason why he should be re-elected.

ANOTHER CANDIDATE.

In this issue Judge H. Clay McKee makes his formal announcement as candidate for Congress in the Tenth district, subject to the action of the Republican party. This announcement should please both the Republicans and Democrats of the District. The Republicans because they could not elect a more honorable, upright, capable and industrious representative. Because if elected he would represent his entire district just like Senator McCreary does his.

The Representatives in Congress would know he was there, and his constituency would also know it. Way back yonder when John Henry Wilson was in Congress, some bills were presented asking for appropriations for public buildings. McKee would get see to it that the streams that get mite appropriations in successive years, and which go down with the first tide, came all in a lump, and whatever was necessary would be done permanently. He would be for measures not because they were of Republican origin, but because they had merit that would be for the betterment of the people it mattered not their source.

Democrats would be proud of such a nominee of the Republicans for the reason that if a Republican could be elected we would know they had given of their best and that there would be little cause of alarm from any act on the part of Judge McKee. He could not be partisan, for he is not built that way, and would represent the entire people. We know of very few Republicans that would deal so fairly with all the people. Democrats would also be proud to know that if defeated one of the very best men of the Republican party had gone down.

ELECTRIC LINE.

The Magistrates will be asked for right-of-way over that part of the Mt. Sterling & Paris and Mt. Sterling & Maysville turnpikes within Montgomery county for an Electric Line coming from Paris to Mt. Sterling. We are informed that there will be capital sufficient to put the proposed line through in the shortest time. We do not anticipate any trouble in obtaining this right-of-way: Such a road would be of great value to Paris and Mt. Sterling, and citizens along the proposed line. It increases the value of lands, of farm products, makes city-broke horses of the country horse, increasing their value, and adds greatly to all kinds of produce and property. We shall encourage the enterprise. Younger Alexander, Lexington, H. A. Powers, Paris, John L. Collins and W. A. Thomas, North Middletown, and J. M. Bigstaff and M. O. Cockrell, of this city, head the enterprise.

HARGIS AND THREE OTHERS

File Contest. Fusion Candidates Have Received Certificates of Election.

James Hargis, Matt Spencer, Thomas H. Hudson and Hiram Centers filed contest proceedings late Saturday afternoon in the Breathitt Circuit Court for the offices of County Judge, Sheriff, County Clerk and Jailor, respectively. The grounds alleged for the contest are fraud, bribery and intimidation at the recent election.

The official canvass of the votes cast in Breathitt county was made by the election board, and certificates of election were issued to the successful candidates who will enter upon their duties at the proper time without regard to the contest filed. The contest cases will be tried in Breathitt Circuit Court before Judge Riddle, unless one side secures a change of venue or swears the Judge off the bench. The officers elected will be sworn in and serve while the contests are pending in the Circuit Court and the Court of Appeals, to which they will undoubtedly be taken.

SEA LEVEL

For the Panama Canal Recommendation.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 18.—By a vote of 8 to 5 today the Board of Consulting Engineers of the Isthmian Canal commission, a body which embodied the greatest and most representative engineering talent in the world, placed itself on record as favoring the construction of the Panama canal on the sea level.

This decision represents the outcome of nearly three months of hard work. Early in September the engineers gathered from all parts of the world, the President wishing to avail himself of the best talent as well as to avoid adverse foreign criticism in the future, had called on the governments of five nations distinguished for successful construction of great hydraulic works, to send each one of their best engineers to assist the American engineers in a decision on the momentous question of constructing the Panama Canal at a sea level, or at greater altitude involving a system of locks.

The board of engineers is made up as follows:
Alfred Noble, engineer of Pennsylvania railroad.

William Barclay Parsons, engineer of underground system in New York.

Isiah Randolph, of the Chicago Drainage Canal.

William H. Burr, professor of engineering in Columbia college, of Boston.

Gen. H. L. Abbott, one of the greatest of army engineers, who has made a study of the canal for years.

Joseph Ripley, chief civil engineer of "Soo" Canal.

Henry W. Hunter, of Manchester Ship Canal, appointed by English Government at request of President.

Adolph Guerdner, one of the leading civil engineers in the employ of and appointed by the French Government.

Eugen Tincuzar, chief engineer of Kell Canal, appointed by German Government.

E. Ouellette, consulting engineer of Suez Canal.

G. W. Welcker, appointed by Netherlands Government.

The board is presided over by Maj. Gen. George W. Davis, United States Army, a gentleman of long experience in engineering and works of construction.

The Lenora National Bank of Morehead, Ky., closed its doors Friday night. Its capital stock is $25,000. Rev. L. V. P. Williams is Cashier. B. W. Trimble was in Morehead on Friday. He was informed that the Lenora had loaned $8,000 to the representatives of the combined C. & O. Lumber Co. and the Winston Lumber & Mfg. Co., the latter being the firm which operates near Prestonsburg, Ky., also that some parties had secured $5,000 from the bank at Olive Hill and more than $6,000 from a West Va. bank, also that these lumber companies were in trouble.

At the time of our visit there was no excitement. On Saturday application was made to Mt. Sterling banks for assistance which was refused. This was followed by the closing. L. P. Morgan, Vice President of the bank is President of the lumber company. He and family left Morehead late Saturday night. W. A. Young's Election Contested.

J. L. Howell, Republican, of Salt Lick, Ky., will contest the election of W. A. Young to the legislature in the Bath-Rowan district. He alleges fraud. His name appeared on the Bath county ballots, but in Rowan county the name of a Mr. Barker was substituted by being pasted over the name of Howell. This substitution was the result of a decision by Special Judge W. R. Cromwell, of Frankfort, sent by Gov. Beckham to preside in a mandamus suit.

TEETHINA

BANQUET

Given by Winchester Commercial Club.

The writer attended a banquet given on Thursday night by the Winchester Commercial Club in honor of the committee of State Development Association and the Revenue and Taxation Commissions. The ladies of the Episcopal church prepared the feast which was served in nine courses. A string band discoursed sweet music. Covers were spread for 125.

Four tables, beautifully decorated and lighted, were laden with good things of eat, water and coffee.

He called upon the writer to return thanks to the giver of all good gifts. The following speakers responded to the toasts:

Eastern Kentucky.—Hon. F. A. Hopkins; One Kentucky.—Hon. Geo. W. Hickman; Our Needs.—Hon. Jas. H. Hazelrigg; Remarks and Reminiscences.—Hon. Jas. H. Mulligan; Our Railroads.—Chas. S. Gribbs, of Louisville, who took the place of C. C. McChord. Kentucky's Future was assigned to C. J. Branton, but he was absent. Impromptu speeches were made by Sullivan, Jno. E. Garner and Judge Beckner.

Such meetings with such distinguished men voicing such sentiments, will do much for the development of our State and the City of Winchester.

The Commercial club is to be congratulated both for securing the meeting of the two committees held for the banquet. We would be pleased to give many of the thoughts expressed. We desire to call attention to the fact that an organization of business men, State Senators, Representatives, Judges, Congressmen, lawyers, etc., can come together for an evening's entertainment without having the pleasure marred by the effects of whiskey, champagne, beer etc. There was no intoxicant to tempt the weak and thoughtless. Judge Beckner referred to this in his speech. We do not know what (if anything) or how much of intoxicants any of the guests had before the banquet, but during the banquet there was no drunkenness, or speech or conduct unbecoming gentlemen.

This is the third banquet the writer has attended in Winchester. At each there has been no wine. However in temperate the guests may have been satisfied, they were temperate, sober in drinking.

Credit for securing the visiting committees and the making the banquet a success is due not only to the Commercial club, but to its enterprising, hustling president, M. T. McElhenny. We are pleased to notice the interest manifested in the development of the town.

Probable Candidate for U. S. Senate.

The talk now is that W. B. Haldeman, Louisville politician and editor, will this week be announced as a candidate for U. S. Senator. Uwey Woodson, a Blackburn manager, says that Fayette's friends have decided to abandon Judge Paynter and try to elect Haldeman.

Prewitt Farm Sold.

The Eva Clay Prewitt farm at Thompson Station was sold in this city on Monday. It was first offered in two tracts. The large tract of 269 53-103 was knocked off to Wm. Wills, of Clark, at $100.00 per acre. The small tract of 161 13 100 acres to Andy B. Hampton at $100 per acre. When offered as a whole there was no advance on the bids, so the two men secured the tracts, a total of 431 36 010 acres, for $43,129.47.

THREE CORNERED.

The Postoffice Has Three Applicants Asking to Become its Master.

James O'Connell, now that John C. Wood is an applicant for Postmaster at Mt. Sterling, is making the harder fight for the position. He thinks the final decision will be between John C. Wood and himself, and if the Postmaster General regards the wishes of the local patronage of the office that he will receive his recommendation and be a sure winner. He knows Wood made an acceptable postmaster for two terms, believes he has been fully endorsed by the Government, and that he would stand a better chance for promotion rather than take a step backward from Railroad Commissioner to which place his party continued him in office for two terms. O'Connell assures the patrons that he will make an acceptable official, urges his claims upon party principles and from the fact that he is in need of the position. If loyalty to party principles, attentiveness to business and acceptability to the patrons is to count for anything, Mr. O'Connell counts himself a winner over Hall and Wood.

Wm. S. Lloyd Says He Does Not Charge Anything for Vinol Unless It Gives Satisfactory Results.

When asked by a reporter of the Advocate how he would make a broad offer in regard to any ailment, Mr. Lloyd replied:

"If Vinol were a patent or secret preparation it would be another thing, but it is not, everything it contains is named on the label. Vinol is simply the up-to-date of administering cod liver oil which for centuries has been recognized as the grandest of all building agents for wasted strength and vitality, and during the last five years we have seen it produce such grand results that we are now willing to back it with any kind of a guarantee."

In Vinol we have simply done away with the useless, system-boggling oil and have given to the people all the medicinal, body-building elements of cod liver oil in a highly concentrated and deliciously palatable form, and we have never sold in our store a medicine of more curative and strength creating value than Vinol, and if the people of Mt. Sterling fully realized its value we would not have clerks enough in our store to supply the demand for it. In a natural manner Vinol tones up the digestive organs, makes rich blood and creates strength. We can only ask the people of Mt. Sterling to try it on our guarantee," Wm. S. Lloyd, Druggist.

A Recent Ruling.

To Collectors of Internal Revenue: Among the various alcoholic compounds now on the market, advertised and sold as medicine under the name of Whisky, Bitters, Tonic, Cordials, etc., there are some that are composed chiefly of distilled spirits, or mixtures thereof, without the addition of drugs or medicinal ingredients in sufficient quantities to change materially the character of the alcoholic liquor.

The fact that these compounds, without the existence of the statute imposing tax on proprietary medicines were, without the necessity of investigation into their medicinal character, by the terms of the law made subject to that tax, because they were held out to the public as medicines, does not afford ground for relieving the manufacturers from special tax as rectifiers and liquor dealers under the provisions of section 3242. Revised Statutes and amendments.

It is held that the statute requires the exaction of this special tax from the manufacturer of every compound of distilled spirits, even though drugs are added to have been added thereto, when their presence is not discoverable by chemical analysis or it is found that the quantity of drugs in the preparation is so small as to have no appreciable effect on the alcoholic liquor of which the compound is mainly or largely composed.

The same ruling applies to every alcoholic compound labeled as a remedy for diseases and containing, in addition to distilled spirits, only substances or ingredients which, however large their quantity, are not of a character to impart medicinal quality to the compound; but where substances undoubtedly medicinal in their character are combined with whisky or other alcoholic liquor and are used in sufficient quantity to give a medicinal quality to the liquor other than that which it may inherently possess, such compound is, of course, not to be included in this ruling.

The question, in such cases, arising under the terms of this circular will be determined by this office, not merely upon examination of the formula submitted by the manufacturer of the compound, but upon result of the analysis made in the chemical laboratory here of samples obtained in the open market and sent in by the local internal revenue officers and agents.

The ruling as to these compounds in the fourth paragraph of Circular No. 608 (Treasury Decisions, 1901, vol. 4, p. 210), "That, if they are composed of spirits in combination with drugs, herbs, roots, etc., and are held out as remedies for diseases stated in labels on the bottles they are to be regarded as medicines until the facts ascertained, as to the purpose for which they are usually sold or used, show them to be beverages, and until such facts are obtained, druggists and merchants who sell these compounds in good faith as medicines only are not to be called on to pay special tax as liquor dealers on account of such sales," is hereby revoked.

But in order that no injustice may be done to these druggists and merchants who, without holding special tax stamps as liquor dealers, have in stock these compounds for sale as medicines, this circular will not be put into effect until December 1, 1905.

Collectors will, however, immediately upon the receipt of this circular send out notice to all druggists and merchants dealing in proprietary medicines in their districts who do not hold the requisite special tax stamp as liquor dealers, that after December 1, 1905, they will be required to pay special tax for selling the alcoholic compounds coming within the scope of the law providing that when they sell them in good faith for medicinal use only, never selling them as beverages, but selling them knowingly to those buying them for use as beverages.

Paving blocks of Oak wood are now coming into use as great ducts for street paving. The blocks are six inches square and eight inches long. They are next impregnated with creosote and tar. This treatment enables them to withstand the wet and dry. One of the main features of the wood pavement is that it will stand more wear better than any other pavement, asphalt, brick, or cobble stone. Not only that, but it deadens the noise of traffic. It is therefore highly recommended for residence streets and those having schools, hospitals, libraries, court-houses, etc., located on them.

What He Forgot.

A Canadian farmer noted for his absent-mindedness went to town one day and transacted his business with the utmost precision. He started on his way home, however, with the firm conviction that he had forgotten something—what it was he could not recall. As he neared home the conviction increased, and three times he stopped his horse and went carefully through his pocketbook in a vain endeavor to discover what he had forgotten. In due course he reached home and was met by his daughter, who looked at him in surprise and exclaimed: "Why father, where have you left mother?"

Circuit Court, Candidate for Congress, Race Suicide, Etc.

The writer spent Tuesday and Wednesday attending Circuit Court at Frenchburg. The McGraw poison case was continued. The acting Judge Will A. Young is an attorney in the case. The trial by Sam Turley, of this city, against a Louisville firm involving a shipment of marble was continued owing to absence of defendant.

We have attended many courts in this and other districts. We do not remember to have seen as many insignificant cases promoted to a Circuit Court—cases trivial in character and supported by insufficient testimony. Parental admonition or if need be a switch, or appearance in a magistrate's court would no doubt have been more availing and appropriate. We presume the grand jury is responsible for returning indictments. I wonder there was "spite work." During circuit court the court room was usually uncomfortably crowded. We recommended a conference of the judge, the bar, county officers, visiting attorneys and citizens generally to act as a committee of the whole, or severally to select some ingenious and experienced man to lower a window or two during the next session of court. In fact owing to the great interest involved such selection should be made during the PRESENT term so that he will have ample time to practice. To show our interest in this public enterprise we will furnish free hand-bills calling together the public and explaining the object of the assembly. We were informed that our townsman, the Hon. John E. Cooper, while mingling with the crowd, announced his candidacy for Congress.

There is much of the true, beautiful, harmonious, gentle, lovely and good in this world—sometimes general, sometimes scattered under in spots. Fortunately is the man or woman who wants to or who hears and see these phases of life. That they do give some direction to our lives there can be no question, exerting an influence "for time and eternity." While traveling on trains, hacks, horseback, in public halls and hotels, on the street, here, there, people unwillingly and unavoidably hear what should not be heard, what should not be spoken. All men should heed the words: "Let the words of thy mouth and the meditation of thy heart be acceptable in the sight of God, Lord, my strength and my redeemer." "The abundance of the heart, the mouth speaketh." "Am I my brother's keeper?" All men should be true in thoughts, words and deeds. Christians are of necessity "in the world," but should not

Public Renting.
I will rent publicly at the court house in Paris, Ky., on Friday, December 1st, 1965, at 10 o'clock a. m. the farm now owned by R. R. Rogers, about two miles from Paris, adjoining the lands of Col. Clay and Mrs. Ward. The farm contains 175 acres to be cultivated as follows: 20 acres in corn, 20 acres in wheat, 25 acres in meadow, balance in grass. Terms made known on day of renting.
HENRY R. PREWITT,
Mt. Sterling, Ky.
19-2t.

The Mt. Sterling W. C. T. U. organization will make an effort and do much toward supplying the needs sustained by the fire of a few weeks ago in which the W. C. T. U. school at Hindman was a total loss. Their first business will be to pack a box of old and new clothing, such articles as would be worth much to the poor children of the locality seeking an education. In this building which had just been completed was a room named in honor of Mr. Jennie Thomson, of this city. This room and its contents was reduced to ashes and the good women feel that it must be replaced. Second-hand clothing, new clothing, bedding, money, anything will be acceptable. Donations can be made to Mrs. B. F. Thomson, Mrs. Charles Oldham or Mrs. Claude Paxton.

Moore's Stoves Always Please

The Original Moore's Air-Tight Heater

This beautiful parlor stove is like a furnace inside. It heats the air by circulation and maintains an even and agreeable temperature throughout the rooms.

The Everlasting Hot Blast Fire Pot

used in Moore's Air-Tight Heater is extra heavy, weighing sixty pounds. The walls are formed by a series of vertical flues extending from the ash pit to the top of the firepot and connected with the interior by slots through which a hot blast is delivered to the interior and upper part of the fire, thus giving perfect combustion, especially of the escaping gases, and making the cheapest slack coal as usable as the most expensive fuel.

Ground joints, accurate to within 1-1000 of an inch, make it absolutely air-tight and you can hold fire for twenty-four hours.

Buy it and be comfortable.

CHENAULT & OREAR.

Almost Serious.
Tuesday morning the men in employ of the Eastern Kentucky Telephone and Telegraph Co. began cutting limbs from trees in Judge Day's yard, when his son Douglas demanded that the boy doing the work should desist until his father came home and directed how it should be done. The boy up the tree stopped work. The manager, Warren Hatton, became very mad and told Douglas he had his father's permission and if he would step out of his yard he would flail the earth with him, and Douglas, a much smaller man, stepped out. Hatton cursed him and shook his fist under Day's nose when Day slapped him. Hatton then drew a pair of pliers from his pocket and struck Day on the head, cutting a gash two inches long and to the bone, knocking him down. So soon as Day regained consciousness he started for his shot gun and Hatton left and was arrested.

DEATHS.

WILLIAMS—Thos. Williams, aged 73, died with pneumonia on Thursday night, Nov. 16, 1905, at the home of his sister, Mrs. Eunice Hamilton, at Levee, in this county. The funeral service was held on Saturday morning by Rev. Carnahan.

GILVIN—Mrs. Pattie Poynter Gilvin died at her home in Sharpsburg, October 24, 1905, after a short illness, aged 39 years. She leaves four children to mourn her death. She made public confession of her faith in Christ at the early age of 9 years, and lived a consistent Christian life, dying in a firm belief of the resurrection. Burial in Sharpsburg cemetery.

MCALLISTER—John Barnes McAllister died in Lexington November 15. His remains were brought here at noon same day, and after a service at the house by Rev. H. G. Turner and Rev. H. D. Clark his body was taken to the Owingsville cemetery and buried after a service at the grave by the Order of Elks of which order he was a member. Mr. McAllister was a son of Mr. J. L. McAllister and wife and was 33 years of age. He is survived by his parents, two sisters, Mrs. C. W. Goomester, of Owingsville, and Mrs. Kate Martin, of Ashland; and two brothers, C. G. McAllister, of Lexington, and Arthur McAllister, of Kansas City.

LOCKRIDGE.—After many weary months of suffering from a chronic throat trouble, Andy Lockridge passed into the unseen Thursday, November 16th. His funeral was preached by E. E. Dawson in the presence of a large crowd of sorrowing friends and relatives at the residence of his father, Mr. Charles Lockridge. He said on his death bed, "My life hasn't been spent as I should have spent it. I am lost unless Jesus saves me." We are glad to know that there is salvation for the eleventh hour man—that Jesus came to seek and save the lost. He said at last, "It is well with my soul." His life was short one, he being only 46 years old. Tired and worn by struggles and suffering within and without—sufferings and struggles the world knew not of—he at last sought rest in Jesus, even as his wasted body found rest amid the silent trees and sweet grass of the family burying ground.

ARNOLD can provide for your family after you are dead. Ask him about it.

CLOTHIERS TO THE PEOPLE.

Mt. Sterling, Kentucky.

A detestable fault is one we can trace to somebody we dislike.

It is easier to talk about ruling mankind with love than it is to do it.

Cowardice is a nightmare that troubles some men when they are awake.

Anything that is unnecessary is dear no matter how cheap it may be.

Many a man thinks he has praiseworthy aspirations when he only aspires to be praised.

You cannot tell how much a man has invested in the church by the interest he takes in the dividends.

When a man buys a horse on all his specifications he is likely to call his folly faith and its consequences the dispensation of Providence.

MAKING MACARONI HERE.

That and Other Paste Foods Originally Made in Italy Now Produced in America.

Macaroni, vermicelli, stellite and other paste foods originally made in Italy are manufactured from kinds of wheat which contain a goodly per cent. of gluten. The flour obtained from these kinds of wheat, when mixed with water, forms a peculiar dough, says the Chicago News. In America the mixing is done by modern machinery, and this operation is followed by that of mechanical kneading, which results in producing a firm, hard paste. The flour is dumped into the mixing vats by the bucketful, and hot water by the bucketful is added. The stirring is done by means of revolving machinery in these vats. Then the dough is rolled upon a flat surface by a large stone or iron weight which, like the mixing machinery, revolves. The kneading operation requires about a quarter hour's time. Experienced Italians are, in many factories, in charge of all the processes.

This firm, hard paste from the kneader is removed to double cylinder presses, in which it is forced downward through copper dies. On the size of these dies depend the size and shape of the finished product. Vermicelli comes from the press in more strings or shreds. Sometimes the strips of macaroni are five or six feet long. Vermicelli may be but six or eight inches in length. After coming from the presses the strips are placed on racks and then hurried away to the drying rooms. The short fancy shapes are dried and cured upon trays. Mechanical fans assist in all the drying operations. Before curing the strips of macaroni are sometimes placed beneath blankets to moisten them. This keeps them from subsequently cracking in the curing room. There is a steady demand for macaroni in the United States. This increase does not come wholly from among foreigners, but from Americans as well, who are fast learning to like a food which has been universal among Italians for centuries. There are numerous factories in the United States using in the neighborhood of 50 barrels of flour a day in the manufacture of paste food products.

SPARROW'S PUBLIC BATH.

One of the Pretty Signs of Union Square, N. Y., Is to See Birds in Daily Dip.

One of the pretty sights in Union square, New York, is to see the sparrows have a daily dip in the fountain. They do not come to the fountain until the lily pads have grown to good size, for the lily pads are their bath dishes.

A bird will fly down from the trees or in from the curb, where it has been fighting with one of its fellows, and alight fairly in the middle of a lily pad. The weight of the little thing is just enough to cause the pad to dip full of water, and by staying near the center of the saucer shape that holds the water, the bird keeps the pad in a sort of equilibrium. He splutters and flaps his wings gently, making the water from his lily pad dish fly all over him, and when at last he has finished his bath he darts away to the stone coping or back to his tree top to dry.

Here at their public bath is one place sparrows do not fight. There seems to be a settled etiquette of the bath. If there are more birds than pads or if the bird has just left and the pad has not yet straightened out and thrown the water back into the basin of the fountain the birds will perch on the coping or on the fountain pipes and wait their turn. No two ever get on one pad, but there are times when every pad has its own bath, and, pretty sight that it is, there are many among the strange collection of loungers in the square that have never seen it.

Lil—Why, cert. He's shot at me twice, set fire to his house once, and he puts poison in my coffee every time I look at an underman.

MODERN MUTINY QUELLED.

Young American Captain Grapples with Mutineers and Quickly Squelches Uprising.

Here is a story of a modern mutiny which was quelled by the heroic young American sea captain in ten approved fashions. There arrived at Colombo, Ceylon, the other day, an American steamer, the Garonne, from the far east to Odessa, in Russia. The Garonne was carrying a large number of convalescent Russian soldiers and sailors and Russian workmen. Between Singapore and Colombo the Russians, under the leadership of their treatment, mutinied and tried to seize the ship. The mutiny was quelled by Capt. Lowe, whom the Times of Ceylon describes as "a typical American—young, clean-shaven and displaying signs of great strength, which, as the sequel shows, he was able to put to excellent use." One of the Russian workmen was ring-leader. Early in the trouble he was put in irons on the bridge.

Capt. Lowe is quoted as saying: "When passing through the Straits of Malacca I had a good deal of responsibility upon my shoulders and could take little sleep. In fact, on June 21 I did not go to my cabin until 12 o'clock noon, when I intended to take a nap during the afternoon. I lay down on my cot, but had scarcely fallen into a doze when the first officer tapped me on the shoulder and I awoke. 'Did you give orders for that man (the ring-leader) to be taken out of irons?' he asked. 'Certainly not,' I replied. 'Well, he's out anyway.'"

"I jumped up and made my way to the gangway leading from the bridge to the deck. Below me I saw a surge of vicious Russians, among whom was the second officer in fetters. They rushed at me. I whipped out my revolver, and, after warning them, pulled the trigger, but it missed fire. The charge had evidently got damp. Seeing this was no use I seized a rifle and used the butt end as a bludgeon, with which I quickly cleared a space around me. The ring-leader grappled with me."

"After a hard struggle I got my man under. He was dragged up to the bridge and guarded by three of my officers, two of whom had Winchester rifles, the mate being armed with a couple of revolvers. Little difficulty was experienced in quelling the disturbance after that."

CHURCH IS REMARKABLE.

Quaint Little Edifice Stands High on the St. Lawrence Bank—Built in 1687.

High on the bank of the St. Lawrence at Montreal stands a quaint little old church that dates back to 1687. It is known as Notre Dame de Bonsecours. From the land side it is very unpretentious, but on the river side far aloft stands a great golden image of Our Lady of Good Success, and there is scarce a pilot or a boatman on the river who passes it without crossing himself. One who passes in the dimly lighted interior will be struck by the rows of miniature ships swung from the overhead arches, each always bearing a burning taper. One who cares to make inquiry will hear a quaint story.

In the beginning the church was a place where all good Catholics might go to say their prayers, make confessions and give their alms. There were always river men and ship's men among the pious visitors. Then back in the days of the struggles of the pope to retain his temporal power, a company of French Canadian zouaves went from Montreal to offer their services to the church. In midsize their ship was overtaken by a great storm and only by the merest good chance did they reach Italy in safety. On their return to Canada they had made a small ship of silver, which was given as a thanks offering to the church on the river bank, and a light burns perpetually in remembrance of the succor of the virgin in time of need. Since then various pilots and others who sail on the river have presented similar ships from time to time, until now a double row swings above the worshippers' heads. And the church has come to be known by the name that every sailor on the river loves.

FISH'S MATERNAL INSTINCT.

How the Bass Looks After the Eggs and the Young—Other Characteristics.

"The female fish has no maternal instincts whatever," said J. Nevins, of Madison, superintendent of the state fish hatcheries, to the Evening Wisconsin. "In fact the fish is the most unhuman creature in existence, that is, of the animals which have any degree of intelligence at all."

"Perhaps it is well that it is so, for if the parent fish took care of their young as other creatures do, the waters of the earth would be filled with them in a very short time. Under natural conditions not one egg in a million ever becomes a fish a year. As an example, I have seen female brook trout go out into the spawning place and spawn their eggs and then turn around and deliberately eat them."

"For the past few years I have been much interested in experimenting with bass and studying their ways. Here the male parent has some maternal instincts apparently. He builds the 'nest' for the female, some little pocket with a gravel bottom protected from the strong current, but with plenty of fresh water, and then hugs or pushes the female into it. The eggs are spawned by the female, who swims away and leaves them to their fate. The male fertilizes the eggs and then for a few days watches over them, fanning them occasionally to insure a circulation of fresh water and keeping off other fish who would devour the eggs."

"The male fish has been known to follow the little fry for several days, protecting them until they were able to take care for themselves. 'I have seen a school of say 1,500 bass fry devoured in five minutes by a few sun bass or perch minnows. Under the care of the fish hatcheries from 50 to 95 per cent of the eggs become fish fry. How many of the fry live to be a year old or so after they are planted in the streams it is very hard to determine. It depends so greatly upon conditions that no reliable estimates can be made."

EDINBURGH'S CLOSING HOUR.

At Ten O'clock All Business Ceases and Nothing, Not Even Zettables, Is to Be Had.

Edinburgh is a city of more than 200,000 souls, and this is the story of told it in the Le Cri de Paris by a recent French visitor: This capital of Scotland, though the seat of a celebrated university, is so far behind the twentieth century that one might as well believe it to be in the middle age. Recently the great romancer Conan Doyle delivered a lecture on speaking until half-past ten at night. When he returned to his hotel he was tired and ordered a dinner.

Impossible, after ten in the evening, he was informed. He insisted, supplicated. He was compelled to take the train for London with an empty stomach.

Some weeks before an eminent personage had been received by the authorities. He was tendered a banquet, but the usages of the hotel were followed. The feast was prolonged until morning. On leaving the mayor said: "You will find upon your hotel bill the cost of the banquet. Do not be surprised if you see it; but we have not the right to eat a meal in this hotel after ten p. m. unless as your invited guests."

The lord provost, the first magistrate, received the official visit of a high personage. He took him about all day, in the evening they entered together the North British hotel. "Serve us with supper," said the provost. The waiters bowed respectfully. "It is half-past ten and we have not the right to do so." "But I am the provost." "Not if you were the king?" And the provost and his visitor nearly died of inanition, for they could get nothing to eat until morning.

SIMPLE REMEDY FOR CATARRH.

Just Breathe Hyomei Four Times a Day and Be Cured.

Hyomei has performed almost miraculous cures of catarrh, and is today recognized by leading members of the medical profession as the only advertised remedy that can be relied upon to do just what it claims. The complete outfit of Hyomei costs $1.00, and consists of an inhaler, a medicine dropper, and a bottle of Hyomei.

Breathe Hyomei through the inhaler for a few minutes four times a day, and it will cure the worst case of catarrh. It soothes and heals the mucous membrane of the air passages, prevents irritation, and effects a complete and lasting cure.

In Mt. Sterling there are scores of well-known people who have been cured of Hyomei by catarrh. If it does not cure you, Wm. S. Lloyd will return the money you pay for Hyomei. This is the strongest evidence that can be offered as to his faith in the remedy. Nov. 8-22

More butter was shipped from the 114 counties of Missouri in 1904 than all of Europe's all of Canada, all of Central America and the West Indians and Bermuda combined. The annual report of Labor Commissioner Anderson for 1905, to be issued in a few days, shows that the surplus production of butter for the last year amounted to $9,060,018 pounds, valued at $1,857,363.88. Nearly all went to St. Louis, Chicago, Kansas City and St. Joseph. Not a pound consumed at home or in the counties which produced the butter is included, says the St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

Is the same class as butter—long milk and cream, and in both of these commodities, according to the figures of Statisticians, J. H. Nolan and A. T. Edmonston, of the state labor bureau, Missouri did itself proud. Outside of the milk used for butter the 114 counties shipped 3,480,093 gallons, including cream, and it brought $556,805.28.

This is not all the greatness of the Missouri milk cow, as there is another commodity in the same line, cheese. Outside of home consumption there was produced and shipped $28,968 pounds, which sold for $119,055.52.

The total value of the milk, cream, butter and cheese shipped is given by Statisticians Edmonston and Nolan as $1,960,223.08. When properly packed, so as to preserve these commodities, it would take a train about four miles long to haul all to market. A street ten miles long and 50 feet wide could be paved with the butter to the depth of three inches, and there would still be 1,031,018 pounds left for repairs. There would be enough cheese to make the necessary gutters and a walk three and one-half feet wide on both sides, and leave 300 pounds. The milk, if allowed to run down the gutters at the rate of a gallon a second, would flow on both sides for over twenty days of twenty-four hours.
